WILMINGTON, MASS., THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1972

Drinkwater property of interest to town Officials

A company owned by a Mr. Drinkwater has been excavating earth materials from land off Concord Street for a dozen years or so, in North Reading. It has been cutting down a huge hill, and it has been excavating in the area of the Ipswich River.

During the past few weeks this company, or another, has been doing work in Wilmington which two committees, or parts of them, seem to think is in violation of the law. They were heard by the Selectmen, Monday evening, in what seemed to be a "scotch verdict", i.e. nothing proven.

The Town Counsel, two weeks ago, told the Selectmen that he needed pictures and witnesses of the alleged illegal operations, or he could not take the case to court. This advice followed a previous meeting in which Mrs. Alice Papalios and Mrs. Ursula Leahy recounted their experiences to the Selectmen, in determining that Drinkwater, was in their opinion, excavating in Wilmington. Their tale was exciting, in that, among other things, the two ladies seemed to have found a boulder with an unexploded stick of dynamite in it.

During the past few months Morton Grant, Chairman of the Planning Board has been telling that Board that Drinkwater was filling land on Concord Street, in Wilmington, and that that action constituted a violation of the Hatch Act.

So, Monday night, the evidence was to be unfolded. Charles Dolan, of the Wilmington Police was sent down to get pictures. Mr. Grant was to relate his observations and the two ladies, too, perhaps, and in a manner in which the Town Counsel could get legal evidence.

Mr. Altman was not present. The discussion started with a report by Selectman Gillis that he had been doing some observing on July 1st., together with three people from the Conservation Commission and the Chairman of the Planning Board.

A dragline, he said, was dragging "muck" out of Wilmington, and into North Reading, all on the Drinkwater property. Then rocks and debris was being pushed into the hole. Gillis described it as "quite an operation" and said that the trucks coming out did so from North Reading. He had taken movies of what he saw.

Charles Dolan, policeman, who was sent to take pictures, turned out to feel that he was more expert in criminal law than in civil law. He saw nothing come out of the Wilmington property, he told the Selectmen. A drag line was swinging around - in Wilmington and in North Reading. When he went closer, to take pictures, he was met by Mr. Drinkwater, who asked him what he was doing.

Dolan reported to the Selectmen that his answer was that he had been sent to "spy". Mr. Drinkwater invited him to take a look. Drinkwater, Dolan said, was filling areas of muck with hard material, so that there could be solid land. Drinkwater told him that three different companies had evinced interest in locating on the property.

LOW LAND: Lying on the northerly side of Concord Street, which has been filled in recent weeks, and according to the Chairman of the Planning Board is a violation of the Hatch Act.

Mrs. Papalios told the Selectmen that it looked to her like a "clean cut violation of the Hatch Act".

That brought a few comments from Mr. Banda. Selectman Banda said that the town counsel probably could get a "cease and desist" order, but it would be good for only seven days, and then the town counsel would have to have something to prove the case.

The Board of Selectmen, Banda declared, has no jurisdiction until he (Drinkwater) starts removing gravel.

Selectman Backman was in favor of taking a "positive step". He wanted the Selectmen to get a restraining order, and "get them to prove they are not violating the law".

Mort Grant told the Selectmen that "there are several violations" going on at the same time. Grant said that in the area that was described as "muck" he, Grant had been in his canoe. "I've been going down there and watching them push the stuff into North Reading".

Grant described his following of a truck last Saturday. The driver, he said, was "nervous" - he stopped twice and looked at me". The truck, he said, had gone over "by Rocco's".

Grant also said he had watched the dragline "shagging" gravel out of Wilmington, and piling it up and "now it's gone". He had made 22 phone calls, he said, to get someone else to come and witness it.

Presumably Mr. Grant, and Mr. Dolan, and Mrs. Papalios and others are to get together with Town Counsel, and find out what the next step is to be.

Fifteen candidates for Morse's Seat

Ten Democrats, four Republicans and an Independent have filed the necessary papers, and are now certified candidates for the Congressional seat of the Fifth District of Massachusetts. They seek election to the seat which has been vacated by F. Bradford Morse who is now Undersecretary of the United Nations.

One candidate, Independent Roger Durkin of Lowell, has nothing to worry about, in the coming September primaries. The young Lowell businessman won't be in a contest until his Democrat and Republican opponents have been named. Then the decision will be made by the voters in November.

In the Democratic race Fredertee member Helen Gilbride Droney, and Glenn Cooper.

From Lawrence, the Democrats have Rep. Anthony DiFrancia, a McGovern supporter, and former Mayor Daniel P. Kiley.

Rep. Paul Cronin of Andover was the first to file for the Republican nomination. He is a former aide to Morse. Father Armond Morrisette of Lowell has the backing of Henry Cabot Lodge. The other two candidates are former Lowell Councilor George P. Macheras and Lowell Mayor Ellen A. Sampson.

rick J. Finnegan, Register of Deeds, from Chelmsford, is the only candidate not from a city, unless one counts John F. Kerry who now has a Lowell address.

Lowell Democrats include the candidate of two years ago, Richard Williams, Republicans, Paul J. Sheehy, and John Desmond, Lowell City Councilman Robert Kennedy, former School Commit-

$46,240 bond for Corum Meadows

The Planning Board, Tuesday night voted a construction bond of $46,240 for roads in the first half of the Corum Meadows development, off Salem Street.

The bond, when executed, will allow Messrs. Dave Newhouse and Jay Tighe to get building permits on 37 lots of land, plus a few along Salem Street. The bond represents the town cost of constructing the street and other facilities in the affected area.

The bond will be guaranteed by a number of bankbooks. A bankbook will be released to the two men at the completion of the work it represents. Town Counsel Alan Altman is to hold the bankbooks in escrow.

The Planning Board also made a preliminary agreement with the Jackson Brothers for development of the "back part" of Elmwood Village, in North Wilmington. A public hearing was held last week, for recision of the plan, at which hearing the present owner, Atty. Harry Gordon threatened to sue if the recision of the plan became a fact.

On motion of Bob Leahy the recision was held up, while the Jackson Brothers prepare new plans. They expect to submit plans in two weeks.

The plans are based on construction of homes on Ella Avenue, and planning of new streets beyond that. Ella Avenue was not built on in the previous construction of a dozen years ago.

11th (also Friday) when "Cannit" will be playing and on Friday, August 25th when "Caution" will be in town.

All bands are booked out of Lowell by the Recreation Department. Time and location of the events will be advertised locally.

Evening movies such as "Winning" starring Paul Newman will be shown. Dates and locations to be announced.

SELECTMEN PLAN TO HELP YOUNG VOTERS

Wilmington's Board of Selectmen, on the suggestion of Mike Cairn, plan to take an active part in getting the younger people of Wilmington to become Registered Voters.

The Board was unanimous, in their discussion of the idea, Monday night.

Discussed were possible plans for having the Town Hall open one night a week for voter registration, for several weeks before the oncoming elections. Possibly the open periods will be every other week, from 7 to 9 pm.

There will have to be discussions with the Board of Registrars of Voters. The Selectmen are planning a letter, to the younger voters in Wilmington.

The buses will Run

The MBYA buses will continue to give service, at least until next December. That's what seems to be the score, after a week of continuing crisis in the halls of the Great and General Court.

The legislature voted no local control until at least December 31st. The Advisory Board, made up of officials from 79 communities has lost their power, at least temporarily. The communities will still pay for the services.

Wilmington, a year or two ago, voted against the bus service that goes up to the Tewksbury line. That service will continue.

The people of Wilmington did not vote to discontinue The train service, too, will continue, but with more passengers.

Meanwhile officials of the towns and cities affected are predicting larger MBTA deficits, this year.

YMCA DAY CAMPS

There are still openings in Camp Innitou for boys and girls ages 5 through 7 and Camp Cabot for boys and girls ages 6 through 12.

Complete details, brochures and registration slips are available at the main desk at the North Suburban YMCA, 137 Lexington Street, Woburn.

Preparing for a Glaucoma Clinic

Colonial Studio of Photography

MR. GLAUCOMA AND THE LIONS: George Gammon of Stoneham, known as "Mr. Glaucoma" because of his work and dedication in the field of glaucoma prevention, was a recent speaker at the Lions Club, preparing the club for their upcoming Glaucoma Clinic, on October 8th.

The clinic is being planned in conjunction with the Wilmington Women's Club and the Wilmington Board of Health.

The meeting was the first of the new Lions Club officers. The new officers include: President, Beano DuPasquale, 1st VP, Richard Thacker, 2nd VP Robert Bousfield, 3rd VP, David Blum, Secretary, Kenneth Spinelli, and Treasurer, John Adams.

By-laws Approved

With one exception, the by-laws voted by the Town Meeting in March have been approved by the Attorney General's office, and are now law in Wilmington.

The Town Clerk, Mrs. Esther Russell, has received a letter from Carter Lee, Assistant Attorney General, approving the by-laws as voted with the exception of Chapter 2, Section 12b. This was an amendment, which sought to make an increase of a budget item more difficult to vote.

As voted, Section 12b called for a two thirds vote, unless approved by the Selectmen and Finance Committee. Mr. Lee held that the matter of a vote is law, and that the Legislature has set it to be a simple majority. The town, he said, may protect itself against rash action by requiring procedural safeguards, but it may not alter the quantum of vote established by law.

While Mr. Lee has approved of Section 12 of Chapter 5, having to do with the speed of a motorboat on Silver Lake, that section is not yet law. In Massachusetts it must also be approved by the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

Sunday: Sweetheart Plastics vs.
Purity of Chelmsford (3 pm); Jay-bury (8 pm).

Softball News

Sunday, July 9th: Smithcraft topped Lipton, 5-0 behind the four hit pitching of Art Dello Iacono (8-1). McCormick and O'Donnell had a pair of hits and two rbi's each in leading the lighting company. John Loder (3-8) took the loss for Lipton.

Compugraphic upset Sweetheart Plastic, 4-2 as Art Chagnon (5-5) gave up two runs in the first inning and that's all as he shutout the Plastic squad the rest of the game. Meanwhile his teammates picked up three runs in the bottom of the fourth off Paul Currier (4-2) to provide the margin of victory. Welding and Spoto had a pair of rbi's each for Compugraphic, while John Rose and Ed Doherty had a pair of hits each for Sweetheart.

In the nite cap Silver Lake Pharmacy outslugged NAPA, 16-11.
Roy MacKenzie, Joe Carvahlo,
Bob Leverone and Ollie Olsen knocked in three runs each to lead the offensive attack as Dave Rumson picked up his second win of the season for the Pharmacy team. Frank Harrington and Rick Norton had three hits and a pair of rbi's each for the cellar dwelling NAPA ten. Tom Sullivan (0-4) was the losing hurler.

Monday, July 10th: K of C topped Brewster's, 4-2 behind the pitching and batting of Jim Hachev (9-2). The Knight's hurler slammed a two run homer in the third and drove home a run with a double in the fifth.
Hachev had a shut-out until the last of the seventh when Brewsters pushed across a pair of runs.

McNamara edged Soderholm, 14-12 behind the guttys pitching of Bill Mutchler (3-6). Bob Stewart had three hits and four rbi's to lead the Tire men. Bob Casello's clutch single in the bottom of the fifth scored the eventual game winner as Mc-Namara went ahead 13-9 to stay on top after each club exchanged early leads. Jim Murray took the loss, his sixth of the season against seven wins.

In the third encounter Jay-Dee edged Wedgewood, 6-5 behind the hurling of Dave Newhouse (10-2). Mark Dragan led the divisional leaders with a pair of hits and two rbi's. Jim Newhouse

TOWN CRIER OF WILMINGTON, THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1972

Wicks (3-4) was the hard luck

Northeast Baseball

The Colts lost all three of their divisional encounters recently and are now sporting a 3-8 slate in the Northern Division. In league play Coach Harrison's boys have lost their last six outings.

Last Thursday Chelmsford shut-out the Colts, 4-0 as Coffey allowed only a pair of singles.
Tony Butler in the third and Jack Gearty in the sixth. Gearty took the loss giving up only three hits, but a pair of errors in the opening frame gave the Elks all the runs they needed.

Friday night it was the same story except a different team.
This time it was the divisional leading Lowell nine as Tipper Durkin fired a three hit shutout at the Colts, to the tune of 4-0. Jack Gearty (2-5) gave up two runs in five innings before tiring in the sixth.

Tuesday evening it was a heart breaker at Tewksbury. Phil Morrissey (1-3) took a 2-1 lead into the bottom of the seventh when the Redmen scored two runs on a pair of singles, a sacrifice and a pair of errors to send the Colts to their sixth straight loss.

The Colts had scored a pair of runs in the fifth as Sugrue and Olson reached on walks and a sacrifice moved the runners up.
Morrissey singled to score Sugrue and John Harrison followed with a single to left scoring Olson for a 2-0 lead, but to no avail as the Colts continue to lose the tough ones.

THEY'RE THE CHAMPS!

THE WILMINGTON RECREATION SOCCER TEAM

The BAYS Champions, sponsored by the Wilmington Recreation Department, as they appeared in the middle of the season.

Front, L to R: Tommy Aprile, Barry Aruda, Bob Swisher, Howie Coombs, Mark
Kalkanajian, Ron Lawrenson, Bruce Tarricone and Mark West.

Second row: Chris DiCicca, Chuck Woods, Rich Diehl, Dave Maloney, and Rick Virtus.

In back are Dave Mather, Steve Winston, Coach Vic Lipski, Mike Walsh, Paul Cipriani and Bob Pigeon.

The Wilmington Recreation Soccer Team entry in the BAYS League (Boston Area Youth Soccer) gas been declared the league champions.

Belatedly, after a two week delay, the championship was awarded to Wilmington. The team from Dedham had been declared the league champions, but, as had been reported in the Town Crier, the Wilmington team had defeated Dedham, and had tied Dedham, in their only two encounters.

Coach Vic Lipski has been offered coaching positions in some of the local colleges, as a result of the excellent playing of the Wilmington team.

The only loss of the Wilmington team in the past season was to Winchester, a loss that was afterwards avenged by a win over that team.

Dedham had suffered two losses, one of which was to Wilmington. It is not known how the league officials had happened to give the championship to Dedham, but possibly it was because Dedham had more wins. After the officials had reviewed the record, and had noted that Wilmington had not only tied Dedham, but had beaten that team the decision was reversed.

This is the second year of play for the Wilmington team. Vic Lipski, who lives on Lawrence Street, and who played soccer in Poland, as a boy, has been its first and only coach.

Wilmington finished the season with a remarkable 6-1-3 score.
Dedham was seven wins, two losses and a tie.

The Town Dump

Part I

Monday night the Board of Selectmen voted to take, by eminent domain, a tract of land, 10 acres or so, which borders North Woburn and is southerly from the Wilmington Town Dump. For one reason or another almost everyone in Wilmington can approve of the action. The surprising thing is that it took about seventeen months to get it.

The Town Meeting a year ago last March voted to take the land, after the Town Manager had told it that he wanted to have it for bargaining purposes with the contractor who owns the town dump. There were doubts expressed as to the value of the land for a dump. The Town Meeting was told it could be used probably not more than five years.

The land in question was sub-divided in 1885 by the then Woburn City Land Development Co. into small tracts, 35 feet by 70 feet. Over the years there have been sales, land takings, re-sales, etc., so that there is a real question as to the ownership of a portion of the land, even when it is shown as being town property, on the town's books. There are more than a few people who have claims to some of the property there.

The next step is for the Town Council to "take" the land by eminent domain. Then the various persons who think they have rights there can sue in court, and possibly win judgements against the town. One of the claimants happens to be Mr. Spinazola, the man who owns and operates the town dump. How much of a claim he has this column is unable to say.

The land, it can be pointed out, has been cleared of all the easily available gravel by gravel merchants. There isn't much left but pock marks of stone, in a landscape that can be described perhaps as Martian.

Mr. Boylen, the chairman, refused to vote for the taking for the reason that a dump there could not last long. It was a good reason.

Another Selectman, Mr. Banda, voted for the taking, not that he felt that Wilmington needed another dump, but that rather it would clear up a lot of ambiguous land titles. That, too, was a good reason.

The town can clear up the title - Mr. Spinazola and others can sue, and some vexing problems may be cleared off the books.

Part II

Now comes the question - does Wilmington want, or need a new dump? This column thinks the answer is No.

Yes, there has been a lot of propaganda over the past few years about a new dump - about a town owned dump, etc. None of the reasons cited are valid, in the thinking of this column.

The present dump is on private property. Mr. Spinazola and members of his family have a $50,000 a year contract with the Wilmington Board of Health.

The State Board of Health has not said that Wilmington's dump is inadequate. It has not disapproved of it. It has made a few suggestions, which are matters of judgement.

It is worth a comment that there are no fires, no calls for the fire department, from the town dump. The roadway was recently oiled. The dump, as far as dumps go, is fairly neat, and is well run.

If Wilmington were, like Burlington, to contract to have an out-of-town dump the price would probably be over $200,000 a year - four times the present cost.

If Wilmington were to have its own dump there would be an immediate increase in costs. That hill that is being taken - it would have to be fenced. There would have to be sanitary facilities, and in view of the bare rock it would be a difficult thing to achieve. A barn would probably be needed, to house town equipment, which in turn would have to be bought.

And, without doubt, there would be a new Department, and a new Union.

Sure, let the Town Manager take that land, if he thinks he can beat down the price of operations, with the dump contractor. But let not the town jump onto a band wagon of nebulous and unnecessary intent, which would cost 200% to 400% more in tax money of the people of Wilmington.

The Engineer was Clean

Special Report

What happened to Ken Miller at West Street Tuesday night shouldn't happen - or should it?

Ken, a civil engineer, was at the Planning Board meeting in the old Mildred Rogers School. Some members of the Planning Board had left the meeting to attend a Board of Appeals hearing, and there was no quorum for a while. Ken decided to take a swim, in the waters of Silver Lake, while he was waiting. Fortunately he was wearing swimming trunks, beneath his street clothes.

While he was in Silver Lake cooling off, another person at the Planning Board meeting picked up his trousers and shirt and brought them into the meeting room.

Ken, when he emerged and discovered that his clothing was gone, suspected, after a few frantic moments, that a prankster was at work. He peeked into the meeting room, of the old school. Sure enough, there on the table, were his shirt and his pants.

He was wearing swimming trunks, but somehow modesty still prevailed. Ken stood at the doorway, only one shoulder and his head visible, and made signs to those within the room that someone should return his clothing.

Finally, Fred Jackson, of the Jackson Brothers, took pity on Ken. No one else would.

But, that's not all there is to the story.

Attorney Joseph Courtin told Ken that he should have had his picture taken, and put in the paper. The title, with Ken of course without shirt or pants, would be "A Civil Engineer as he leaves the Planning Board Meeting".

Candy Strippers seek Work

by Bill Kirtz

Dear Mr. Neilson: We are writing this letter and petition to you, because you are the head of the local newspaper.

We are two 11½ year old girls and we want to become Candy Strippers when we are 14 years old.

But, the closest hospital around here is in Lowell and the cost of going to Lowell and back whenever you have to work adds up, considering being a Candy Stripper is volunteer work and so you don't get paid.

Please do something!

Sincerely,
Marsha MacDonald, Ann Marie Vittorioso, Elaine Baldwin, Richard G. Simmons, Janice Weed, Joseph Vittorioso, Virginia Ann Vittorioso, Valerie Vittorioso, Florence Fitzgerald, Mrs. Barbara Walters, Patricia Deshar-nais, Barbara Stratton, James Stratton, Richard Stratton, Robin Stratton, The Gallant Family, Elsa M. Rettig, Mary A. McVeil, Lisa MacDonald, Rose MacDonald, Marilyn Peca, Colin MacDonald, Verneice Theresa Hensey, Verneice Hensey, Patricia Richards, Louise Clark, Kathv Horak, John Horak, Lori Horak, Jovce Connolly, Lucy Constanza

A Candy Stripper is a gullant young lady, 11 or over who dons a peppermint striped uniform to perform volunteer duties in area hospitals. She is often seen working in hospital coffee and gift shops, she delivers flowers and mail to patients, fills water pitchers, serves meals, etc. Ed.)

CARD OF THANKS

A family, visiting from California, wishes to express their thanks to the Wilmington Police Department, for the help given in the finding of a missing child.

Softball & Street Hockey
Inter-Playground Leagues

This summer the seven playgrounds are in competition with each other in a twelve game softball and street hockey schedule.

There are two boy divisions: Seniors age 11-13 and Juniors age 6-10. The Powder Puffs (girls) have one team at each playground.

Every Tuesday, a playground will meet at another playground, and compete in the various league games and other activities. On Thursday, the schedule will be reversed, enabling each play to visit all the other playgrounds of the town.

All schedules are posted at the playgrounds. When youngsters visit another playground, it is advised that they bring their lunches.

Scouts to Visit Playgrounds
Next week's activities will include outdoor skills as Explorer Scouts and Girl Scouts will visit the playgrounds and conduct training sessions in outdoor cooking and other skills.

Family Night
Friday evening from 6 to 8, parents will be hosted by their neighborhood playground for an outdoor cookout. Parents should contact the playground leaders at the nearest playground to volunteer their services for a successful "Family Night".

Many thousands of people each year die by fire. Most of these deaths are the result of carelessness, however, and could have been prevented.

Here are some safety rules that it is only common sense to follow:

1. Avoid smoking in bed, or when sleepy, or when living down.
2. Always break a match in half before throwing it away.
3. Keep matches in covered containers and out of the reach of children.
4. Avoid carrying loose matches in clothing.

Have you children round or near your home? Then you must know what it is to have to change a window glass. Don't make the mistake of thinking, however, that putty alone will hold a new glass in place.

You will need to put glazier's points around the glass at intervals, pounding these into the frame, in order to hold the glass securely. Then add putty to make the window water and airtight.

Yesterday this Gal had a letter from a lad who was a friend of Kevin Nolan's and She wants to share it with you: "Dear Nancy, I am writing this letter in regard to the recent drowning of Kevin Nolan. Kevin was a dear friend of mine and many others. I know there is nothing anyone can do to bring him back, but I think something should be done to prevent this sort of thing happening again. The area that Kevin was swimming in is a very dangerous place. There are 'No Trespassing' signs up, but that doesn't seem to stop people from going there anyway."

Nancy, all I am asking is that in your next column, you would please try to stress the point to parents that this is a dangerous place to swim and that they inform their children of this. By doing that, maybe people will realize that it is really dangerous. I haven't done much, but I feel by doing this, this Town might not have to face another tragedy like this one. Thank you. A concerned friend of Kevin's."

(And - Concerned Friend - you have done something! But of course, it won't help, if the parents know and the young people ignore their warnings. For many years, many parents have been concerned. That is why it is fenced and posted. But thank you for reminding this Gal to say something. Our hearts and prayers are with you and Kevin's family. God Bless you for your thought. Perhaps if enough of Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington or call, after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Something really interesting happened this week. It started with the story of Tom Flight on Shawshen Ave., who'll be 92 years young on July 15th. Seems that Tom wrote to President Nixon about that bday and the Pres. did send him a card of felicitations. Great - and heartiest congratulations to you there boy! Well, coincidentally, in a chain after that, this Chick must have chatted with at least a half-dozen octogenarians - all doing their own thing! It has occurred to her that She'd like to have a Birthday Calendar of all of you who are over the 3 score and 10 mark. So, if you qualify, will you drop this Gal a note or card at Box 208, Wilmington, or call her at 658-4865 with us became concerned, we could make a beach out of that spot. It would be a lovely one if taken care of. Thanks again.)

Don Hofses of Swain Road joined the Navy this week. He is taking his basic in Florida and then will be off to Chef's School. The young folk gathered at Bradley's on North St. for a farewell party. Much luck. Don - and She'll be looking for a goody when you get back. If She can clip the cardboard Diet by then - Yep. She's back at it again, so She'll be in shape for Fall - right on by those muffins Every morning and that takes some doing for her!

Frank Mango of Forest St. called us with a Miracle this week. Seems that Dick Stosez of Hanson Rd., who works in the Reading P.O. and is an active member of the Knights of Columbus, donated a kidney in a transplant to his sister, who was on an artificial kidney machine. The transplant was a success, which is extremely exciting. (This Gal has personal reasons to be grateful to that Man Upstairs, because there, but for his Grace, goes a member of the Clan). Now, seems sif Dick has mammoth medical bills, since medical insurance paid sister's bills, but not Dick's because his was a voluntary hospitalization. So those Knights, God Bless them, are raising the funds to defray the medical costs. They are doing this by raffling off a 144 piece teak-wood handled, hand-crafted silverware service set for 12, which came all the way from Thailand. Now this service has a special meaning for the people in Willie because it was sent to the Knights by Father John Regan with a request that it be used in some manner to best promote the Council and ideals of the Knights. So, this being Fr. Edmund Croke Council, the lads feel this is the thing (and Father Croke would be pleased with that, boys - He was one of the most concerned and generous men this Gal has ever known - always giving of himself to others - even in his illness) that they wish to use it for.

So, this Gal is no gambler. She'll tell you that, on acent of her walking stock can eat all the peanut butter she can earn, so She's pretty careful of the moola. However, She did buy a book of raffle tickets for this one for two reasons: She wants to help Dick (The last bill She had for the "kidney thing" was $3800 or thereabouts, so it's not chicken feed for Dick's bill she can assure you of that), then, She'd love to have that special silver service.

Mrs. Fielding's kilowatt estimate Chart

Possibly Mrs. Diane Fielding of Hopkins Street should be offered a job as a meter reader. There are, in various police departments, ladies who are known as Meter Maids. They drive motorcycles with two rear wheels, and stop to look at meters and cars which are parked.

Mrs. Fielding, with a three wheeled motor-cycle could really accomplish a lot. That guy who reads the meter now - he has to walk across the lawn. Imagine Mrs. Fielding on a motorcycle, doing her thing, driving across lawns.

Probably she wouldn't accept such an offer, and probably Reading Light wouldn't be interested in offering it. But, it does have possibilities.

Mrs. Fielding now has a chart which shows how much energy appliances should consume. She brought one to the Town Crier office where it was photographed. For those who, for one reason or another, seek to know what happens in the consumption of electricity, the chart is reproduced.

Appliance Comparison Reference of Electrical Energy Consumption with Fuel Use

Estimated Annual Kilowatt-hour Consumption of Electric Appliances

The following data are based on normal usage of the appliances. When using these figures for projections, the size of a specific appliance and other specific circumstances involved, including such factors as the effect of geographical location should be taken into consideration.

New York Times

Large Type Newspapers

The New York Times Large Type Weekly is now available in the reading room of the Wilmington Memorial Library.

Head Librarian Philip Meriam, feels that many adults in the community have a vision problem and find it difficult to read the small type used to print ordinary newspapers and magazines.

Mr. Meriam feels that too often people who were once active members of the community have to take a back seat because they just can't keep up with events.

Employees at the Wilmington Library wish to do something about it and making the Large Type Weekly available is a start.

The Large Type Weekly is a 32 page digest of the New York Times. It features a review of the week's major news stories; news analyses by such Times as Russell Baker, Tom Wicker, and James Reston; cultural items sports and business news, articles on food, fashions and family living.
